TSC aims to ensure full sanitation coverage in all villages in the country with the help of State Governments and local Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs). TSC projects are sanctioned district-wise, and entire rural areas of a TSC project district are covered under the programme. At present, this programme has been taken up in 569 districts in the country.

(c) Government has taken various initiatives to increase rural sanitation coverage, which include scaling up TSC projects in all districts of the country, increased budgetary allocation for TSC, launching of incentive-cum-reward scheme, Nirmal Gram Puraskar for Panchayati Raj Institutions, awareness generation activities and capacity development of different stakeholders etc. As per revised TSC guidelines issued in March, 2006, by the Government of India, Solid and Liquid Waste Management has been included as a component of TSC and up to 10% of the total project cost can be utilized for this purpose. Provision has been made for APL families who need assistance by providing soft loan through 'Revolving Fund' mechanism for construction of toilets. To increase the speed of providing sanitation facilities in schools and Anganwadi centres, requirement of community contribution for construction of toilets in the schools and Anganwadi centres have been removed. Efforts are being made to develop convergence with NRHM and SSA authorities for awareness creation and hygiene education among the people and children in the rural areas.
